

We address our customers with our vision of being on the market:

„Professional leader for complex fire protection needs“

Top management of the company is aware of its responsibility and commitment to the implementation and support of improving the efficiency of the integrated management system, to adhering to all relevant binding obligations, legal and other regulations, interested parties' requirements and applying risk-oriented management including ensuring safe and healthy working conditions.

An integrated policy is based on these principles:

PARTNERSHIP

We manage collaboration with business partners so that their products, services, and processes are in compliance with the requirements to support the efficiency of our system processes. We strive for sustainable development and synergies for achieving business objectives.

EXCELLENCE

Customer satisfaction is an important factor for success, therefore, by monitoring their requirements and expectations, we look for opportunities to increase it. We minimize risks by providing technical advices and information on aspects of our products and services.

INNOVATION

Continuous learning and innovation of products and services are permanent part of the corporate culture. We design new products in a way that takes into account the requirements to minimize risks during installation and usage. We prefer to prevent pollution, eliminate hazards, reduce risks, injuries and health damages.

LEADERSHIP

We strive to be the best contractor of stable and semi-stable fire extinguishers and a supplier of fire and rescue equipment. Being the best for us means every day to improve our activities to find the most reliable and secure solution for every customer. We encourage creative thinking for opportunities and strengthen the responsibility of all collaborators.

SAFETY

We protect the customers property, the environment and the health of co-workers and other people and we prefer to avoid nonconformities, dangerous situations, injuries, damage of health, environmental pollution and other risks.

PASSION

We realize a comprehensive solution for products and services, from design to service throughout the entire life cycle. We increase customer care, meet individual requirements with full respect all legal and other regulations.

COURAGE

Awareness of responsibility for quality of work, professional development affects performance improvement and compliance with requirements. We promote the principles of safe work, support the participation of co-workers, or their representatives and we consult with them the management of health and safety at work.

COMMUNICATION

We support all interested parties to take health and life protection actions by effectively communicating product technical and safety data. We share project experiences, including deepening our knowledge of the benefits of improved personal behaviour in the environmental field.
